Future Industry Leaders Alliance
National Waste & Recycling Association

The Future Industry Leaders Alliance (FILA), a special-interest group of the National Waste & Recycling Association, provides education, networking and mentoring opportunities to future leaders to prepare them for executive advancement and professional leadership in the waste and recycling industry.

FILA members receive professional development opportunities in Leadership,

Finance, Human Resources, Operations, Safety, Public Policy & Advocacy, and Business Development. Through facility tours and educational sessions, FILA members learn about emerging technologies and trends in the industry. FILA strives to inspire a sense of humanitarianism in the next generation of leaders by providing volunteer opportunities to give back to the industry, as well as other charitable organizations in our communities.

FILA is an exclusive group of young NWRA member professionals who work diligently to improve the capabilities of our industry, introduce next generation thinking and innovation, while cultivating the extensive experience of leaders that have come before us through mentorship and collaboration.

Proudly fostering: Innovation | Collaboration | Entrepreneurial Spirit | Servant Leadership | Strong Stewardship of our Industry
